Military Y.M.C.A. To Start Big Campaign

A meeting which was fairly representative of the various towns of The Pass was held at the Comopolis Hotel on Thursday afternoon, where the plans for the coming great drive were outlined by Mr. A. C. Newcombe, of Calgary. At the meeting it was thought that in view of the fact that over $1500 was raised in this district during the 1917 campaign, it should be possible to raise for the new appropriation at least $2,000, the task to be apportioned to the towns of Coleman, Bellevue, Hillcrest, Frank and Blairmore. Last year great enthusiasm was shown in the campaign following the organizations effected by Mr. Easterbrook and the addresses delivered on behalf of Military Y.M.C.A. work by Capt. Pearson, a veteran member of the organization who had seen considerable of the activity of the organization right up to the present time. Since that time interest has continued to grow and now no organization maintains the sympathy and promise of support of the public, save the Red Cross, as does the Military Y.M.C.A. The central executive has allotted the sum of $20,000 to the territory covered by Mr. Newcombe, which comprises all the district from DeWinton south to Macleod and west to Coleman, and it is safe to expect that the objective of $2000 will be greatly exceeded in this part of the district. Last year, Coleman subscribed some $181, or almost half of the total amount subscribed by the district, and those whose activity was greatly responsible for the success last year, are confident that Coleman can do as well if not better in the approaching campaign, which will be made on May 9, 10 and 11.

A conference is to be held in Calgary on Thursday of next week, and the following were appointed from the meeting yesterday to represent The Pass: J. F. Hunter and J. E. Gillis, Blairmore; W. G. Lawson, Coleman. Provisional committees were appointed as follows: Blairmore—J. F. Hunter, W. J. Bartlett, Rev. J. Fulton, F. M. Plunkley and J. E. Gillis; Coleman—O. E. R. Waiter, W. G. Lawson, A. M. Morrison, H. C. McBurney and W. L. Quimette; Hillcrest—G. Cruikshank, Frank J. Smith, F. Lotz; Bellevue—J. Brooks, L. P. Robert, E. C. MacDonald, Rev. H. Peters; Frank—Rev. W. T. Young, E. Morgan, C. J. Tompkins, George Pattinson, J. Brown. The above committees will during the week call meetings of citizens for the purpose of electing permanent committees, which will comprise chairman, secretary and three or five of an executive for each.

Anniversary ServicesCentral Union Church

The anniversary services at Central Union church on Sunday last were largely attended, and the audience were highly pleased with the discourses delivered by Rev. J. S. Wilkinson, of Tinsler Creek.

On Monday night a large number of people attended the platform meeting, which was indeed a success.

Several speakers were on deck, including Revs. Hunter, Wilkinson, Young and Fulton, and Capt. H. E. Lyon, the pastor occupying the chair.

The most important item on the evening's programme was the unveiling of what is known as a "Community House Roll," containing the names of every man who has enlisted from the community for active service.

Every man's name appears in this roll, not because he figured in connection with any particular church, society or other organization, but because as a representative of the community he has gone to do service for the empire in our great cause, the cause of humanity and civilization.

The honor roll, beautifully arranged by our local artist, Mr. J. B. Harmer, and framed, and bearing the names of 116 citizens, was unveiled by Mr. F. M. Plunkley, the chairman of the board of managers, in a speech befitting the occasion.

Of the number enrolled, some seven or eight have been killed in action and rest beneath the sod in No Man's Land.

For the others the hope was expressed that all should come through the conflict safely and be spared to return to home and dear ones.

During their remarks the different speakers strongly appealed for increased interest in church welfare.

Messrs. Young and Wilkinson emphasized strongly the need for united efforts and united congregations.

Capt. Lyon commented upon the splendid work being accomplished in the war by such organizations as the Y.M.C.A. and the Red Cross, not forgetting the assistance of both in our own free land.

He had changed his views in connection with the rum issue since going overseas, and could not say anything against it, but rather

He was a patient at the Frank Military Hospital for the greater part of last year, during which time his mother resided in Blairmore as to be in close touch with him.

Death of Gunnar Tiber

The sudden death of Gunnar Tiber, aged eighteen years, occurred yesterday afternoon at his home on Eleventh Avenue. Gunnar had been in the employ of the West Canadian Collieries, and was taken suddenly ill while returning from work at the mine at noon. He was conveyed home by some friends and Dr. MacDonald was summoned, but before anything could be done for him the spirit of life had fled from him. His father had predeceased him but three months, and as Gunnar was the only support of his mother and two small brothers, the circumstances are particularly sad.

Just last week and he returned from Elko, where he attended the funeral of his cousin, who died in a similar manner.

Funeral will be held from the home on Eleventh Ave. Sunday afternoon to Central Union church, where a service will be held, after which interment will take place at the Blairmore cemetery.

felt that the issue of the rum in the trenches as a ration was a necessity that our boys should not be deprived of. Mr. J. R. Smith added to the programme several appropriate songs and one sacred selection entitled "The Three Crowns," and at the close, refreshments were served by the ladies of the congregation.

Tanks Introduced New War Method

Natural Repugnance to Man Machine Gun and How It Came Into Being

The tanks have abundantly justified their introduction. They materially helped to win the battle of the Somme, and they were the great factor in the victory of the Allies in celebrating. The use that Byng made of them is evidence to me that at last the art of tank warfare has been discovered. For the first time the tanks have been given a chance to show their worth.

It has taken months to evolve the correct tactics. After the battle of the Somme, unfortunately, the tanks were not employed to their full advantage. They were too distributed to give effective results, and the result in which they were used was highly unsatisfactory. The tanks were never intended for the mires of Flanders. The mud on this part of the front was so thick that the tank has disappeared under it in a night.

It is highly an engineer's war, but it is still very hard to get of inside of it, understanding that the engineer's advice may be valueless. I often see the attitude adopted towards him is that of an enemy. The engineer's side of war is considered the least early in human history. We should find our progress to the Rhine, says W. T. Wilson, killed as the inventor of the tank in the London Dispatch.

The tank should revolutionize war as much as labor-saving appliances have revolutionized industry.

The tank has not only come to stay, but it may venture on a prophecy, more and more it is destined to play a predominant part in modern war. Not merely does it guarantee that obstacles holding up infantry will be swept aside, but it allows a clear ground of the retreating army. In this sense the tank is better than cavalry and infinitely less vulnerable.

Do not believe the stories about the wholesale destruction of tanks. The percentage of losses is very small. It is not easy to hit a moving object that zig-zags like a ship dodging a submarine.

What is the anti-tank gun? It is a field gun on a rising mounting turned point-blank against the advancing object. It must be operated from direct observation and if the gun officer can see the tank so the tank man can see the gun. The broad principles then I say the tank has nothing to fear from the gun.

Will a tank be able to fight a tank? Why not? A cruiser can fight a cruiser. The deciding element will be the calibre of the shell. We are by no means at the end of tank development, although as showing the merit of the original design the tanks used today are practically identical with those that swarmed over the German lines on September 15, 1916. The chief changes made have been in regard to fittings and in the direction of increased comfort for the crew.

It pays to use tanks. Every soldier lives that a tank saves pay for his coat. Calculate the cost of the lives that the tanks have saved in the present battle and I make bold to say that they have paid for their cost many times over. And in proportion to our proficiency in their use will be their life-saving and battle-winning value.

Hundreds of people have ideas about tanks. Many of their suggestions are quite admirable, only they suffer from this defect: they are not practical. Tank development is limited by the railway gauge. You can have the first tank in the world, only if you can get it to France. The good is that. There are tunnels to think of. And if it goes by road, many bridges are there that will bear a load of thirty tons!

We are witnessing on land the same development in offensive means that we have witnessed at sea.

In the old days, what did the navy consist of? A number of men in row boats armed with cutlasses. What does it consist of today? A fleet of self-propelled armored boats, with means of defense. The tank is the latest development of the offensive force for land use. It is the self-propelled armored boat with the offensive force for land use. It is the self-propelled armored boat with the offensive force for land use.

The pill box does not worry the tank. Why should it, seeing that the pill box is nothing more than the old Martello tower which we erected on Romney Marsh in the olden days on the south coast to defend the Channel.

There is a tank literature, but it is necessary to sift the wheat from the chaff. The story of the origin of the name is much more picturesque than the several versions published. When we commenced to build them at William Porter and company's works our men were naturally very curious; so we told them they were carriers for Mesopotamia. That was too much of a mouthful for them and they shortened the description into "tanks" and "tanks" they have remained and "tanks" they are likely to remain until the world is at peace.

In time we had to tell our workmen the truth, and consequently sufficient credit has been paid to the tank literature. That was too much of a mouthful for them and they shortened the description into "tanks" and "tanks" they have remained and "tanks" they are likely to remain until the world is at peace.

Let me add further to the tank literature. We have human and animal eyes have pointed out to it. It was presented to the world in 1915 by the Long Sen of the federal Malay States, and that year it was used in the war. It was used in the war. It was used in the war. It was used in the war.

So far from having made a fortune as a result of its introduction into tanks I have made nothing and have expended my total income in the tank. I have made nothing and have expended my total income in the tank. I have made nothing and have expended my total income in the tank.

Military Service Act

Important Announcement to All EXEMPTED MEN and to the Public Generally

IN dealing with the very large number of claims for exemption brought forward for consideration in connection with Class I under the Military Service Act, it has occurred, as was inevitable, that as a result of false statements and difficulties put in the way of investigation, some individuals have secured exemption whose proper place is in the Army.

It is not the intention of the Government to allow these men to evade permanently their obligation to bear their part in the military defence of the Country and of the ideals for which we are fighting. To do so would defeat the purpose of the Act, and cause grave injustice to men in the second class necessarily called out to fill their places.

Exemptions Granted on False Grounds

It is, therefore, proposed to scrutinize carefully all exemptions granted to date in order to separate those which have been granted on false or insufficient grounds from those that are well founded.

With this object in view the various Registrars under the Military Service Act have been instructed to issue a series of questionnaires to exempted men. These questionnaires must be filled up correctly and returned promptly under penalty of forfeiture of exemption for failure to do so.

Exempted Men Who Have Changed Address

It is therefore important in their own interest that all exempted men who have changed their address since their exemption was granted and who have not already notified the Registrar of such change should notify him at once. Under the Regulations it is the duty of exempted men to keep the Registrar advised of any change of address, and failure to receive the questionnaire by reason of neglect of this duty must be treated as equivalent to failure to return the questionnaire after receipt.

Citizens Urged to Assist

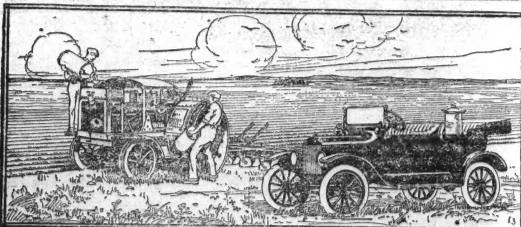

In many instances information has been furnished by members of the public which has led to the cancellation of exemptions obtained by false or misleading statements. Further co-operation of this character is invited. The Government regard it as the duty of all loyal citizens, not only to the Country, but to the men at the front, to assist in this way in securing reinforcements on a just and legal basis. Correspondence of this character will be treated as strictly confidential and will receive the fullest investigation.

CHARLES J. DOHERTY,

Minister of Justice

Correspondence should be directed to J. M. Carson, Esq., Registrar under the Military Service Act, Calgary, Alta.

The Ford is Now Considered a Necessity for Large-Scale Farming

WHETHER you are doing work on a large scale, or a small scale, you endeavor to reduce the delays of your farm machinery to a minimum and save time. A Ford will assist you in doing these two things.

If your tractor runs short of gasoline, the Ford will bring a few cans right to the spot and greatly shorten the delay. Or if you need a repair, or some new plow points, you can "run" the expert to town and back in one-third the time it would take with a horse and rig.

With a Ford you can supervise the work on your ranch much more thoroughly. You can get your mail and supplies oftener, and take more enjoyment out of prairie life. A Ford will do all these things and many more, and at the same time save you money.

The strength and endurance of the Ford has been proved the world over. It is equal to the western roads and the distances.

The Ford is the car for the Western Farmer.

Lieut. Harry W. Clark, of the Royal Flying Corps, is at present visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Clark, prior to his departure for overseas.

A grand concert and dance will be given by the Coleman town band in the opera house on the night of Wednesday, May 1st, and promises to be an enjoyable affair. The proceeds will be given to the Red Cross.

A grand ball will be given in the opera house, here on the night of May 24th by the Next-of-Kin, the proceeds of which will go towards the formation of a local branch of the Next-of-Kin Association. Watch for bills.

A pleasant evening was spent at the parish hall, St. Alban's, Coleman, on Monday last, when a presentation was made to two returned veterans, Mr. H. Armstrong and Mr. H. Bradford. The former was presented with a silver wrist watch and the latter with a handsome pipe and case of tobacco. The affair was staged by the soldiers' wives, mothers and relatives in Coleman. The two recipients expressed their appreciation of the kindly feeling towards them. The chairman, Mr. Harry W. Clark, is making the presentation, spoke of the debts due by the community at large to the returned men and said that nearly every one at the meeting had relatives serving in the army. The Rev. H. Cleveland gave a stirring and patriotic address and sang two songs. Others taking part were Mrs. M. Morrison and Mrs. G. Euston and Mr. John Hatfield. The ladies' committee, who looked after the refreshments, etc., were Mrs. R. Johnson, Mrs. Beart, Mrs. Hatfield and Mrs. Derbyshire. The Coleman town band, under the guidance of F. Reddington, also rendered good service in making a success of a most enjoyable evening.

The steamship Celtic, one of the largest White Star liners, was attacked and torpedoed by a German submarine during a voyage from England to America. It is believed the ship will reach port safely. "The Celtic" has a gross tonnage of 20,504, and has for many years been one of the largest steamships in the trans-Atlantic service. She is 681 feet long with a 75 foot beam.

One pair of rabbits in one year would increase to 2484 in twelve months at the rate of six young ones per month, which is a very conservative rate, some young families numbering as high as thirteen. This is also allowing for the elimination of surplus bunnies as soon as they are big enough to eat. Rabbits can live on hay and get along very cheaply. They provide five pounds of meat when full grown.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. McDonald, near Beaver Mines, was completely destroyed by fire last week. The origin of the blaze remains a mystery. Men from a neighboring house succeeded in removing a piano from the blazing building, which was the only thing saved. Mrs. McDonald left but a few weeks ago for the States, where several sons are at the front; only one son and daughter remaining at home. The loss is a very serious one.

In Premier Stewart's interview with the Social Service deputation, recently, he made the following amusing break: "Recently I happened to be at the local express office on two different occasions and was simply amazed at the number of people calling there for liquor during the half hour I was waiting my turn." The deputation roared with laughter and it took considerable time for the premier to convince them that he had never bought nor had a bottle of liquor brought in since the law went into effect.

The federal government has appropriated the sum of $200,000 to be spent on the national highway this year between Medicine Hat and Crow's Nest. We are wondering if the plan mapped out by them includes the requisitioning of the C.P.R. steam road to open a decent road through the Frank Slide. It is said that the money that has been spent in building up and repairing the present road over the Slide during the past ten years would more than cover the cost of grading a road with the aid of the steam shovel which would remove the present grade almost entirely.
